the eminent actor, who with his wife perished in the S. S. Empress of Ireland disaster, is valued at $5,000 by the Probate Court in London.

About the middle of end of August the Grand Trunk Pacific line to Prince Rupert from Winnipeg will begin to operate a through freight service and some time in the early fall a limited passenger service through to the Pa-

on. The first class passenger will not be operated until next spring.

About two hundred men are engaged in dismantling the mining machinery at the Hosmer mines. Everything is being recovered from the working face out, including ties, spikes, shovels, bolts, and all underground equipment, and in the course of six weeks the town of Hosmer will be no more, insofar as the coal mining industry is concerned.

The matrimonial differences of the Duke and Duchess of Westminster, concerning which all sorts of strange rumors have been floating around for many months, have culminated in a legal arrangement. Negotiations had been proceeding for a considerable time towards this end, with the assistance of several of the most eminent English lawyers. The result is a deed of separation whereby the parties agree permanently to live apart.

The political situation in the Balkans, emphasized by the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife in Sarajevo, Bosnia, grows more critical. Austria is firmly determined to destroy the dangerous "greater Serbia" propaganda and to prevent the union planned between Serbia and Montenegro, which, it is believed, cannot be attained without resort to force.
Austria has declared her intention of backing Austria with her entire resources.

Trouble is brewing between Acting Mayor Blumenthal and Mayor Martin, of Montreal, because the former is making appointments to the fire brigade during the Mayor's absence. Mayor Martin was at Woodstock, Ont., last week and was notified there by wire of the Acting Mayor's doings. His wrath was kindled and he has since then been wired every day to the Acting Mayor demanding that he should submit any documents to the Acting Mayor for signature.

The London Daily Telegraph says there will be no British competitors in the American open golf championship at Chicago next September. Various difficulties, the paper adds, have prevented the intended visit of Baird and Duncan, but Harry Vardon and some of the other best golfers in Great Britain are likely to go to America in 1915, and it is expected that the British championship will attend the championship meeting on the Ekwanok course, at Manchester, Yt.

Mr. Duncan Campbell Scott, Deputy Surveyor-General of Indian Affairs, has gone to Prince Rupert. He stated that he intended to meet the chiefs of the Indian tribes around Prince Rupert and Port Simpson to discuss a number of questions with them. He will also meet several of the tribes in the interior before returning to Vancouver.
The Indian Commissioners are in the north country, but their inquiry is in no way associated with the information being sought by the department head.

The crop report of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture based on reports received by telegraph to entries as to conditions on July 11, shows the condition at the moment justifies the statement that seldom has the crop within one province shown such excellence on the one hand and such poor condition on the other. Percentage of the area in which conditions are excellent greatly exceeds that in which they are poor. The outlook at the moment is for 75 per cent. of an average crop.

The north end of Vancouver Island has been the hunting ground lately of an unusual number of cougars. They are seen frequently on the roads and trails and are besides responsible for the death of a number of dogs and small stock. Some few months ago a large member of the species was discovered by a startled visitor to a dog house near to Mr. Skinner's market at Shushtell. It, F. Warren of Cape Scott is a fortunate hunter, having within a short space of time accounted for about seven of these feline monsters.

By the decision of His Honor Judge McVitt, rendered at the close of the recent proceedings, the East Lambton seat in the recent Ontario contest has been awarded to Robert John Mc-Cormick, the Liberal candidate, with 27 majority. Conservatives say they will carry the decision to the court of appeal. No less than 123 ballots were found in the ballot box with the counterfoil and printed numbers attached which has been held to be against the law in a number of previous election cases. Of these, 77 ballots are marked for Martyn and 46 for Mc-Cormick.

The announcement that elevator accommodations have now been provided at Havre to handle the increasing quantity of wheat which has latterly been imported from Canada, to that France is not only of commercial importance to Canada, but of interest to Canadians who use this route.
Frequently delays of one or two days have been caused as the grain could only be unloaded after being barged in the hold of the vessels. Havre is a splendid jumping off place for those who desire to visit Rouen, see the famous tapestries at Bayeux and visit those places in Normandy and Brittany which have been so identified with the name of Jacques Cartier and the earlier settlers of French-Canada.
At the same time, the delays which have hitherto been experienced against the use of the route via France by those bound for points in the United Kingdom.

The action is brought by Whip-

The Ottawa Free Press says: "It is probable that during the next session of parliament active steps will be taken by the members to urge upon the Dominion Government the advisability of increasing the sessional indemnity, which is now $2500. The agitation will receive some support from the action of Mr. E. A. Lancaster in declaring to continue as a member for Lincoln, which he has represented in the Commons for fourteen years, on the ground that he cannot afford it."

At the meeting of the general synod of the Anglican Church in Vancouver in September an attempt will be made to substitute the word "hades" for "hell" in the prayer book. The progressives also want the prayer for forgiveness of sins which follow the absolution deleted as being illogical at such a point in the service. They also want the Canadian prayer book brought up with the American version by substituting the word "Who" for "Which" in reference to the Deity.

in connection with the operations of the British Columbia capitalists which intends to develop the radium springs

A correspondent of the Ottawa Free Press points out that the new Government of Canada is not the youngest Governor-General yet appointed in Canada, or for that matter, in any other Dominion. Although one of the youngest, he is not the youngest.
Marquis of Lorne, Governor-General of Canada, was 35; the Marquis of Lansdowne, 38; Colonel Simcoe, 39, and Poultice Thomson, later Lord Syden-

It is reported that iron deposits on the Copper River, Omineca mining division, may be investigated this summer. The property consists of nine claims covering 375 acres at the headwaters of Summit Creek, about 38 miles from the Grand Canyon. The iron in the ore is said to assay higher than the precious metals are not present to any large extent, it is said. It has been classed as hematite, but limonite is said to be the proper description.
Only open cuts have been resorted to up to the present, but drills will be used to explore the mountain side.

Already the management of the Empress Hotel in Victoria are making preparations for the entertainment of their eminent guests in the persons of Their Royal Highnesses the Duke of Connaught, Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia, for the week of August 20-27. The staff of gardeners have set themselves to the task of arranging that the extensive grounds and spacious lawns shall present the most inviting appearance, and Manager Jackson is working to the advantage of a scheme of exterior decoration on a most lavish scale. It is understood that one of the outstanding features of the festive occasion will be a citizen's ball to be given in the Empress for the pleasure of Their Royal Highnesses.

Germany's greatest surgery specialists have abandoned the use of radium for the treatment of cancer, and are now confining themselves exclusively to the Roentgen Rays. Among them is Professor Baumbach, director of the Women's clinic of the University of Berlin, who has just presented a paper on the cancer cure of cancer by the Roentgen method. The surgeon-general of the German army, Professor Dier, who is also the head of the surgical faculty of the university in Berlin, is another who has renounced faith in radium.
The surgeons are working to the advantage of a scheme of exterior decora-

In the world of art the opinion of Mr. E. H. Lambart, D.D., curator of the National Gallery, Liverpool, is ranked for a good deal, for he is in the front rank of art critics. Mr. Diddin gives high praise to Canadian artists and to the work of Canadian artists.
"The most striking feature of Canadian art," he says, "is the sincereness of the artists, and the high level of their artistic aims, and while the very eminence of their ideals renders their task difficult, their work impresses me by its earnestness and idealism." On his visit to Canada he was surprised to find how many of the artists were collectors of paintings and to note the fine sense of discrimination of the owners. In Toronto, too, he found remarkably good collections.

leans; a war of extermination has been declared upon the rat, while every One of the largest subscriptions ever raised under the auspices of the Montreal Board of War Relief has been secured.

Already the fund is $55,073, and subscriptions are still coming in at the entertained and it is hoped that before the close of the year, the fund will be over. A new contract has just been awarded to the Peter Lyle Construcjust passed, the work is taken over by from Fiume to North America. In conjunction with a Hungarian concern, the Cunard company will form an independent company giving ships instead of money, while the Hungarian Gov-subsidy. No Hungarian under 25 years of age, who has not finished his mili-

or the United States.

The immigration authorities have received an application from the City of Ottawa for the deportation of forty Ruthenian laborers on the ground that they have become a charge on the public. The charity branch of the city has been supporting them for some time. The immigration officials are investigating as to what lines brought them to Canada and then they will be deported. The steamship companies are responsible in cases of deportations within three years. Immigration to Canada is dropping fast and the present month will see a decrease of prob-

Mr. J. A. Rudick, Dominion dairy commissioner, has returned to Ottawa from attending the sessions of the International Dairy Congress at Berne, Switzerland. The congress is held triennially and gathers together the most eminent dairy experts of all parts of Europe and some from other parts of the world. The delegates were given a very hearty welcome at the capital of the Alpine republic and the addresses were replete with the latest and best information on dairying. The addresses were read chiefly in French, but some were given in German and others in English. Mr. Rudick took the opportunity of paying a visit to several of the dairying districts of last week from Government House.

The Duke will leave for the west on July 23, but will not arrive at Victoria

RINGWORM ALL OVER GIRL'S FACE

Hands and Arms. Burning and Painful. Suffered Day and Night from Itching. Cured by Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment.

St. Veronique, Que.—"My little girl got ringworm all over the face, hands, and arms. I was given a sort of white ointment and like a phial of water to wash with. After eight days of this treatment the ringworms instead of healing became dark red and were spreading, then were burning and painful. The child suffered day and night from the itching. I was very disturbed.

"One evening I found a sample of Cuticure Soap and Ointment that I had requested the year before. So I commenced a wash with the small piece of Cuticura Soap, then applying the Cuticura Ointment and at the end of three days the child was suffering less. Then we wrote to some friends in Montreal to get some Cuticura Soap and Ointment for us. After fifteen days' treatment the ringworms were cured over and whitened, then on the twenty-fifth day they were all dry and cured." (Signed) Mrs.
Made Louise Rion, May 20, 1914.

THE NEW NORTH

Hon. W. J. Bowser Gives Glowing Description of His Recent Trip.

Victoria, July 18.—"To sum up my impressions of that section of Central British Columbia, traversed by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, which has just been my privilege to inspect, in company with my colleague, Hon. W. R. Ross, I may say that my convictions as to the great destiny of this Province are immeasurably strengthened, as is also, my belief that a new situation has arisen, with new problems for the attention of the Government."

This was the view expressed by Hon. W. J. Bowser to the Colonist yesterday on his return from his two weeks' tour of that portion of the Province which lies between the Alberta boundary at Yellowhead Pass and Prince Rupert. The Attorney-General enjoyed the trip immensely, aside altogether from more serious matters which engaged his attention. Meetings were held at McEwen, Prince George (which included the other members of the Fraser, Smithers, and Prince Rupert.

Trip Very Successful.
"We had a very successful trip," said Mr. Bowser. "The possibilities for development in that section of British Columbia proved a revelation to me. Coming in personal contact, as we did, with the settlers who are doing the pioneer work in that great area, we secured first-hand knowledge of the needs and requirements of the country, which will prove invaluable."

"It has been brought home to us, as members of the Government, that, with the construction of railways through this virgin area, a new large problem presents themselves for consideration. Take, for instance, the matter of roads and trails. These are absolutely vital to the settler. Yet very largely along the country traversed by the new lines of railway there are too few of these."

Faced With New Conditions.
"The Government, as a result of the fruition of the railway building program which has been in progress in this Province for the past half-dozen years, is face to face with a new and unique set of conditions. Great areas of land, splendidly adapted for settlement, have been made accessible; and already the first of the established themselves. They suffer a great disability through the absence of many facilities which are to be found in the older sections of the Province, but chief among their needs are roads and trails. As a result of my personal observation along the route traversed by the Grand Trunk Pacific, I am in no hesitation in saying that I am in thorough accord with these pioneers who are urging the Government to attend to their needs in this particular, and it will be my aim to impress upon my colleagues the absolute necessity of considering at the earliest moment and means to remove this disability."

Developing an Empire.
"The trip brought very forcibly home to me a fact which we are too often prone to forget, namely, that the people of this Province are attempting something never before attempted by the people of any other country. They are developing an empire. That task has never before been set any similar number of people to undertake. They are facing a population of over 500,000 people. Yet we could set the whole of Germany in one corner of British Columbia. The railways which we have been building across the face of British Columbia while they have been a magnificent means of bringing about the development of our resources which is so essential to the well-being of the country, have really, as a first effect, only served to disclose how great are the problems which the Government of this Province must now face in dealing with the new and more arduous task of developing a new territory to settlement."

Many Large Problems.
"This, I may say, has been the outstanding revelation of our tour—that we have had demonstrated to us anew how great is our Province and how great must be the courage and intelligence applied to the solution of the large problems which are now facing the administration. We held a number of public meetings in order that we could the better get in touch with the people at the various points where stops were made, and in every instance the cordiality of the welcome extended to us was unmistakable. There was some criticism of the Government's policy on a number of points, and this we welcomed, as we desired to get at the actual facts of the situation, so as to better study the requirements of the country."

Trade Development.
"With the completion of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, the people of the coast cities will be afforded an opportunity for trade development which is at present denied them. Prince Rupert, on the north coast, and Vancouver and Victoria, on the south coast, will become large distributing centers for a trade which, with the development of the 'New Interior,' will unquestionably assume huge proportions."

In my judgment, the Grand Trunk Pacific will be the main line of British Columbia in respect to agricultural and mining development. Not only will new mineral areas be made accessible for the first time, but in many instances, notably in the case of the Omineca country, where much profitable mining has been done, the line is open to the whole given transportation facilities which up to this time have been non-existent."

"One of the surprises which awaited members of the party who went over the route of the Grand Trunk Pacific for the first time was in respect to the topographical features of the subarctic country. The popular impression is that the country is mainly mountainous. This is quite erroneous. The larger portion of what may be termed Central British Columbia is the reverse of mountainous. I recall that long for a long time through a rolling country before we saw in the distance the Bulkley Hills."

Influx of Settlers.
"In respect to the question of whether we are to witness a great influx of settlers into British Columbia, now that large areas of fine land are being made accessible, I may say that, after making a number of inquiries, and coming to the conclusion that the opening of the Panama Canal will prove a powerful factor in our favor, the matter of seeking immigrants for Canada has heretofore, and very properly, been left in the hands of the Federal Government. The opening of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Ontario also, by independent effort, did much in the way of inducing immigration. And what was the consequence? The Maritime Provinces held all they could of the immigrants; Ontario did the same, and the policy of the Federal Government was actually, was to place as many settlers as possible on the public lands in the Prairie Provinces. So British Columbia obtained very few settlers—they had mostly been located before they got so far West."

But with the opening of the Panama Canal we may look for an entirely different order of things. It will then be possible for the best type of British emigrants to reach the shores of British Columbia at less expenditure than were they to land at an Atlantic port, and make their way to the interior. And it is the opinion of the opportunity we shall be able to offer them will suffice to have them locate permanently with us, to assist us in the task of developing our great heritage."

ACTED ONLY IN PUBLIC INTEREST

This Is the Statement of New Brunswick Premier Before Royal Commission.

St. John, N. B., July 17.—Continuing his examination of Premier Fleming in the inquiry into the timber charges today, Mr. G. Teed, K. C., asked questions calculated to show how the province had benefited by the adoption of the Flemming timber policy. The increase of stumpage on cedar, fir, hemlock and hardwood increased the revenue by $75,000 a year.

The Premier had first heard of Brankley, the original treasurer of the lumbermen's fund, through Berry, who had said that Brankley would be acting for the lumbermen. Asked today what had occurred when he had been asked to accept Mr. Brankley's services, the Premier said that he had not made such a statement and he was willing to accept Mr. Brankley's statement that he had.

"Had the raising of this fund any effect on the fixing of the rate of bonus?" asked Mr. Teed.

"None whatever," replied the Premier. Mr. Fleming then stated to the commission that everything he did was with the idea of serving the public interest.

A DIFFICULT POSITION Nobody Seems Clear as to Outcome of Home Rule Problems.

London, July 18.—"Despite the feeling of optimism which is said to prevail as the result of Lord Beauchamp's declaration in favor of a conference on Home Rule on the lines of Lord Dunraven's amendment, the situation is not clear. The Premier's statement, which was written on the situation up to last night, 'to see how a settlement can be arrived at, in the present temper of the parties'."

Bill is Disliked.
The amendment bill is disliked by all parties, and is regarded as a device solely to prevent a vote. The changes introduced by Lord Lansdowne and his colleagues with the object of safeguarding peace is still uncertain. The time limit, by general consent, zone, the government will resist the deletion of the referendum, and the clause conceding to the six 'plantation counties' as one area to be decided by one poll, thus abandoning the original county option. The fiercest fight, if the amendment bill ever goes into committee, will be on the referendum.

Had Long Conference.
The prime minister had a long conference with the Irish leaders today, and it is expected that the whole situation will be discussed at tomorrow's cabinet meeting in the light of new developments in the house of lords. The visit of Lord Lansdowne to the prime minister at the house of commons yesterday, and Sir Edward Carson's return to London have set many reports afloat as to the renewal of conversations. The government, however, has made no approach to the situation. The prime minister's secretary with Mr. Asquith had no final significance, while Sir Edward Carson's journey to London was due to the possibility of the government putting down the amendment bill for discussion this week in the house of commons.

Not Excited.
London, July 18.—The Daily Mail, which has been accused of deliberately fomenting a scare over Ulster, dismisses the situation in the morning edition, remarking that the position "There is no excitement in Belfast because Belfast has ceased to be excited," which may or may not convey to the world the real meaning.

"According to the Daily Chronicle, a party of liberal journalists, including Mr. Asquith, Mr. Lloyd George, and Mr. Balfour, on the charge that Liberal papers suppress news happenings in Ulster. Sir Edward Carson is said to have declined to see the party."

It is generally noted that yesterday, when Lord Lansdowne announced the willingness of the government to give facilities for a conference if a general desire was expressed for such, Lord Lansdowne's reply was extremely guarded. The inference being drawn that Lord Lansdowne and his friends were waiting for a conference if such was arranged.

Abandon Former Positions.
The Daily Graphic, London, remarks that Lord Grey's admission last night proved that the force of events has compelled the ministers to abandon some of their former positions. "They now admit that to maintain the territorial limit is impracticable. They also admit that the Unionist portions of Ulster are entitled to exclusion. The only question of vital importance remaining in the area of exclusion, Lord Grey argued, that it would be unjust to have under the control of Ulster the portions of that province which desire home rule, but it is equally unjust to leave the south of Ireland Unionist subject to a Dublin parliament. Some hardships there must be, but the line is drawn. The question is, 'What line in the circumstances is the most convenient?'"

REDMONDS POSITION

His Followers Will Not Consent to Exclusion of Two Ulster Counties.

London, July 18.—No settlement yet in sight is still the latest bulletin on the Irish situation. The cabinet re-assembled today for the third time this week which is quite an unusual occurrence. The probabilities are that the Amending Bill will pass in the second reading in the Commons on Monday or Tuesday without division, but Mr. Asquith will intimate that the Lords' alterations can not be accepted. By this procedure the government will be able to defer the announcement of its policy until the committee stage, thus hoping for the discovery of a basis of agreement.

Carson still demands the unlimited exclusion of all Ulster and Redmond replies that it is impossible for the Nationalists to sacrifice the counties of Tyrone and Fermanagh, in both of which the Nationalists have a majority.

Speaking at Tottenham last evening, W. A. Redmond, son of the Nationalist leader, said the exclusion of Ulster had only been put forward because there was no chance of its being accepted. The Amending Bill as it stood now could not be accepted by the Nationalists or Liberals.

Not Much Talk of War.

He solemnly believed that when the Home Rule Bill got on the statute books, as it would in a few weeks, there would not be much talk of civil war. They might then perhaps, settle down to some form of negotiation for the settlement which might be more pleasant or satisfying to the people of the Northeast corner of Ulster.

Well posted ministerialists admit that powerful interests from within the cabinet, and outside, are urging further concessions on the part of the government, and urge that the fixed area be excluded for an indefinite period. Upon this the Manchester Guardian, speaking for many ministerialists, is inclined to do so.

An Autumn Session.
London, July 17.—The Prime Minister announced in the House of Commons today that the government has decided to hold an autumn session of Parliament, and fixed the date provisionally for the last week in November or the beginning of December. The cabinet today held the third meeting of the week to consider the Irish situation and the allocation of business for the remainder of the session.

Mr. Asquith, however, has been asked to refrain from any reference to the lines along which he would aim at a settlement of the Ulster problem when the House of Lords amendments come up before the Commons at the beginning of the week.

FEDERATION OF LABOR Decision Reached to Take a Referendum on a General Strike.

Vancouver, B. C., July 18.—Action called for a referendum on a proposition to call a general strike of organized labor in British Columbia, in connection with the strike of coal miners on Vancouver Island, was taken by the Federation of Labor yesterday, the decision being favored by a vote of 18 to 14. The action four organizations were chosen to conduct an educational campaign throughout the Province to acquaint the different unions with conditions and to urge the carrying on of the strike.

The resolution, which was moved by Mr. P. J. Nannan, and seconded by Mr. J. H. McEwan, Vancouver, was put as a substitute for other actions suggested, and was as follows: "Whereas the mine workers of Vancouver Island for 21 months and 14 weeks respectively, have been agitating for the right of organization; and whereas the Government has assisted the coal operators to help defeat the miners in various ways, such as non-enforcement of the coal mines' regulation Act, the deception of workmen and the new order-in-council regarding the mining of British Columbia; TO ASSIST AGRICULTURISTS

What the Borden Government Has Done For the Farmers of the Dominion

During the past couple of months Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, has been completing arrangements with the various provinces for the expenditure of the $800,000 grant towards agriculture made by the Government under the Aid to Agriculture Act. Agreements have been signed and ratified now with all the provinces.

When Mr. Borden was seeking election in 1911, one of the planks in his platform was:

"The granting of liberal assistance to the provinces for the purpose of supplementing and extending the work of agricultural education and the improvement of agriculture."

After the return of the Conservatives to time was lost in carrying this promise into effect. A year ago a bill was passed by the Government providing for the expenditure of $10,000,000, during the next ten years, on agriculture.

A big, progressive movement, which had been carried out with vigor and energy, and has met with the heartiest approval of agriculturists from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

How the Distribution is Made.

Mr. Burrell has secured the co-operation of all the Provincial Governments, Liberal and Conservative, in working out a policy for the encouragement of this basic industry. Under the bill passed by the Government ten million dollars was set aside for the use of agriculture. This was increased to $800,000 for this fiscal year, with an additional one hundred thousand a year until 1917, from which time $1,100,000 will be provided until 1922.

In making the distribution, the Government arranged so as to give particularly generous treatment to the smaller and poorer provinces. Each province receives a flat grant of $20,000, irrespective of size, while there is a $20,000 grant for veterinary colleges. The remainder of the yearly grant is divided according to population.

The following table shows the amounts granted to each province for the present fiscal year:

Ontario.....$230,868.83

Quebec.....187,409.16

New Brunswick.....61,144.45

Prince Edward Island.....49,407.20

Manitoba.....27,832.81

Saskatchewan.....52,799.38

Alberta.....68,075.45

Veterinary Colleges.....61,152.31

Total.....$800,000.00

What the Provinces are Enabled to Do.

The enormous value of these grants to the agricultural industry throughout Canada can only be appreciated by reviewing what the various provinces have been able to do through these subsidies. Advanced and progressive agricultural work along every line has been promoted through the generous treatment of the Dominion Government, Ontario benefited under this Act this year to the extent of $230,868.83. The chief expenditure of $100,000 is being utilized to carry instruction to the door of the farmers through district representatives. To encourage agriculture in the Public and High Schools, there is another $13,000. For new buildings at the Ontario Agricultural College this year's agreement provides for $2,000. There is $7,500 for stock and seed judging, short courses, and institute lecture work, and a similar amount for women's institute work. For drainage work, the agreement provides for the expenditure of $4,000. For demonstration and instruction in vegetable growing, there is $2,500 and five thousand for demonstration work in soils. There is included $7,500 for demonstration work in spraying, pruning and packing of fruit, with $4,500 for demonstration in live stock and poultry. The remainder of the grant is made up of $1,000 for educational work in connection with co-operative buying and marketing, $1,500 for short courses for fall fair and field crop judges, $1,000 for work in bee-keeping, and $500 for horticulture lectures.

The largest amount is $60,000, to be spent in the Quebec Schools of Agriculture. Nine thousand is to be spent on agricultural education in the rural schools, and seven thousand on entomological and horticultural investigation. Other features of the Nova Scotia agreement are as follows: dairymaking educational work, $1,500; poultry institutes, $2,000; short courses, $4,000; field demonstration work, $8,000. New Brunswick is making admirable use of its appropriation. $12,500 is to be spent in the building, equipment and maintenance of agricultural schools, and $2,000 for the equipment and maintenance of dairy schools. There is provided in the Dominion's grant $13,000 for traveling instructors. For a director of elementary agricultural education there is a grant of $2,500, and $2,500 for courses in training for teachers. Three thousand is to go for work on drainage and soil cultivation. For the admirable object of encouraging school gardens, there is a vote of $3,500.

Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

The largest part of the Saskatchewan vote is to be used to provide additional teachers and to conduct additional research work at the Saskatchewan College of Agriculture. No less than $17-852 is to be used for traveling instructors and demonstrators in field husbandry, animal husbandry and dairymaking. There is a vote of $6,500 to provide for the introduction of agriculture and domestic science courses into High Schools and College Institutes, and the training of teachers in agriculture at the provincial normal schools. Four thousand is to be used for educational and development work to promote and direct organization of farmers along co-operation lines for production and marketing farm products, and five thousand is to go to meet the province's share of the cost of equipment, manning and advertising demonstration trains.

Alberta's grant is $51,310.41. Of this total, $36,000 will go towards operation of schools of agriculture, and $6,000 for the construction of such schools. Eight thousand is to be spent in the encouragement of dairymaking, half for a special instructor and half for dairy competitions.

NO MORE OLD MEN.

True it is that the old man is not a conspicuous figure any more. The explanation is, not that he has been crowded off the stage by the young fellows, but that he has insisted on being a young fellow himself. Time was when there was a distinctive style of dress for men who had passed the meridian of years. They affected sober black of ancient cut and bore themselves accordingly. Nowadays the veteran dons his natty light suit, straw hat and low shoes and steps easily along with the youngsters of 'em. The 70-year-old dances the latest steps, plays golf, runs his own automobile and enjoys life generally.—Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

OREGON APPLE GROWERS

Important Meeting of Orchardists Held at Portland Last Week.

Portland, Ore., July 18.—Representatives of the rapidly growing demand for fruit and vegetables in the Northwest met in Portland Tuesday at the Northwestern Fruit Exchange headquarters to discuss ways and means for taking care of the rapidly growing demand for fruit and vegetables in the Northwest. The meeting was presided over by the following members: M. W. Starks, Pres. Ushastin Fruit Growers' Assn., J. F. Sugrue, Pres. Cashmere Fruit Growers' Union, S. V. Beckwith, Mgr., Rogue River Fruit and Produce Assn., E. D. Chatfield, Mgr., Mosier Fruit Growers' Assn., and J. C. Skinner, Mgr., Hood River Fruit Growers' Exchange.

The first half of the day was devoted to the reading of reports and a general discussion of the foreign market. Germany and other leading foreign countries where the Northwest apple finds a market were discussed and the situation carefully gone over and recommendations made and adopted.

The export problem is more readily worked out by close co-operation with resident agents in the foreign countries. The forming of the Exchange has tended to systematize the application. By the inter-community system of shipping, waste and loss of time is eliminated, with the result that consumers in foreign countries get a uniformly better and lighter grade product, and are willing to pay a better price than under the old style of handling the business.

South America Good Market.

Reports covering the South American situation were read and discussed. South America is making a strong bid for Northwest apples, and this profitable market for American products will receive the careful attention of the Exchange. One of the Exchange's own people staff is now in Buenos Ayres and in communication with the Portland headquarters by cable. Many thousands of boxes of apples have already been bid for, with indications pointing to the development of a most profitable market through the medium of the Exchange.

season will be a record one for the uniformity of price due to judicious distribution over a constantly growing market, even with the expected large tonnage this year.

In marked contrast to the old method of indiscriminate and wasteful method of marketing was the 1913 campaign of the Northwestern Fruit Exchange, and growers expressed themselves as enthusiastically satisfied with the chain-like marketing system.

Growers Satisfied.

Through their representatives, the growers shipping through the Northwestern Fruit Exchange expressed their perfect satisfaction and endorsed the marketing arrangement for the coming season. The various varieties grown in the different locations were discussed regarding the coming season's values. Careful segregation of varieties was planned in choosing the markets. The estimate on tonnage shows a large increase in cars to be shipped this season. A special proportion for foreign shipment was decided upon.

To Advertise Aggressively.

Inter-community shipping permits of a strong advertising campaign to establish the Skookum Brand, with the result that an ever increasing value will accrue. Growers and the representatives of the various districts were unanimous in their desire for good publicity, and active steps were taken in this direction. A uniform branding of all boxes with the name of the Northwestern Fruit Exchange was adopted as well as plans for direct advertising to the retailer and consumer. The possibilities of the Northwest apple are immense, but coupled with a uniform pack and label which is well advertised throughout the world, it at once assumes even larger proportions. The Exchange, in being of such magnitude to permit of world-wide advertising of its brands, performs an even greater service to its members than any other single feature of its work. It means the establishing of values, the getting of better prices and a more secure market.

Wenatchee Admitted.

Application was made by the Wenatchee Growers Exchange for license to pack Skookum, and was granted this morning. The Wenatchee district is one of the top notchers in the apple industry of the Northwest, and the Wenatchee Growers Exchange a lusty and growing organization, will add materially to the vigor of the Skookum campaign.

GO SWIMMING.

(Chicago Tribune.)

Teach your boy to swim. It is the best exercise in the world in the summer. It develops the chest, improves the wind, and strengthens the heart. A boy who does much swimming can't smoke many cigarettes, because swimming is about the severest test of wind there is. Besides, if your boy knows how to swim it will likely save his life some time.

NOT YET OBSOLETE

Dreadnoughts Still Maintain Their Pre-eminence in Naval Tactics.

Sir Percy Scott's sensational denunciation of Dreadnoughts, and his assertion that the future command of the seas will rest with the country that is strongest in submarines and airships, has provoked considerable discussion. It is not to be denied that Admiral Scott is a great authority, but other British authorities not less eminent have taken issue with him. This much can be said: If Admiral Scott is right, what he says is not new; if he is wrong, the fallacy of his views has been proven already, and because a former Minister of Marine believed in them France ceased for a time to be one of the great naval powers. In Germany the critics all differ from Sir Percy Scott. The Post, the organ of the German war party, believes that he speaks for the purpose of fooling other countries, especially Germany, into scrapping their Dreadnoughts so that the naval strength of Britain may remain unchallenged.

The Big Ship Doomed.

Sir Percy Scott's opinions, as set out in a letter to the London Times, may be summarized as follows:

"The introduction of the vessels that swim under water has, in my opinion, entirely done away with the utility of the ships that swim on the top of the water."

"The submarine causes to disappear three out of five of the functions, defensive and offensive, of a vessel of war, as no man-of-war will dare to come even within sight of a coast that is adequately protected by submarines. The fourth function of a battleship is to attack an enemy's fleet, but there will be no fleet to attack, as it will not be safe for a fleet to put to sea."

"If by submarines we close egress from the North Sea and Mediterranean, it is difficult to see how our commerce can be much interfered with."

"Submarines and aeroplanes have entirely revolutionized naval warfare, no fleet can hide itself from the aeroplane eye, and the submarine can deliver a deadly attack even in broad daylight."

"Naval officers of the future will be required to see how our commerce can be much interfered with."

"What we require is an enormous fleet of submarines, airships and aeroplanes, and a few fast cruisers, provided we can find a place to keep them in safety during war time."

"In my opinion, as the motor-vehicle has driven the horse from the road, so has the submarine driven the battleship from the sea."

Where Submarines Failed.

Lord Sydenham writes to say that the idea that the automobile torpedo must abolish the battleship is as old as the introduction of that weapon. The war experience of the Whitehead torpedo, which is considerable, has been uniformly disappointing. Mr. Fred T. Jane, the naval statistician, recalls the fact that in the Russo-Japanese War the Russians made every attempt to destroy Tokyo's battleships, but without success. The battleships were screened by torpedo craft, which if attacked by something larger, had always the battleships to fall back upon. He predicts that precisely the same thing will happen to the submarines of the future.

Already most powers are building ocean-going submarines and small submarines. The former are merely the forerunners of monstrous vessels of the future—Dreadnoughts under another form. There is one universal, eternal law of the sea, equally applicable for under the sea or over it, viz., "to keep in all weathers." It can only be attained by bulk. It can never be done by small battalions."

Cannot Depend on Torpedo.

Admiral Sir Francis Bridgeman, who in 1910-11 commanded the home fleets and in 1912 was First Sea-Lord, says that Sir Percy Scott's letter contains nothing that is new to the Admiralty authorities, excepting that he recommends an immediate reduction of the naval estimates. Sir Francis says that nobody can say just what will be the developments of the future as regards submarines displacing warships, but certainly the time has not yet arrived. Sir Philip Watts, designer of the first Dreadnought and of modern submarines, and from 1901 to 1911 director of naval construction at the Admiralty, says the recent naval experience has not shown the torpedo, the weapon of the submarine, to be sufficiently trustworthy to warrant the British Government to pin faith to it alone. It is a most valuable supplementary arm to the fleet, but the Dreadnoughts and the battleships will not be replaced with submarines for many years to come.

What Happened in France.

He goes on to say: "The torpedo, in the first place, has less destructive power than a Dreadnought's gun-fire. Secondly, it has a short range. Thirdly, the accuracy of torpedo-fire against a moving object is very doubtful, as the torpedo is liable to deflection. But nevertheless both submarines and waterplanes are most valuable arms in conjunction with a fleet. Our navy receives invaluable assistance from its submarines, and the Admiralty has perfected a large type of submarine capable of going on her own power, practically all over the world."

In France a few years ago, Admiral Fournier created a profound sensation by his successful theoretical demonstrations of the power of submarines. He came to the conclusion that the submarine was to be the boat of the future, and M. Pelletan, the Minister of Marine, seized upon these experiments as an excuse for saving money designated for battleships. The result was that France declined as a naval power, and that she has realized that Fournier was at least premature in being so bold in her policy, which has been directed toward the building of large ships.

THAW WINS LEGAL SUIT

Court Decision Will Give Him $160,773 From His Father's Estate.

Pittsburg, P., July 18.—Harry K. Thaw won a six months' legal battle, when he was awarded by the Orphan's Court here yesterday the income from his father's estate which has been denied him by the trustees since he was adjudged insane for the slaying of Stanford White.

By the decision Thaw gets $160,773. Judge Over says Thaw is legally entitled to the money despite that alienation declares Thaw is suffering from an exaggerated sense of self which would make it unwise to commit any large sums of money into his personal charge.

WELL DESERVED RECOGNITION.

It seems hardly possible to add anything worth while by way of editorial comment to the very genuine and spontaneous tributes of esteem, friendship and recognition of sterling worth accorded to Mr. W. C. Ricardo, at the banquet tendered the retiring manager of the Coldstream Ranch, on Monday night. The News cannot allow the opportunity to pass by, however, without giving expression to its most sincere appreciation of the well known and invaluable services which Mr. Ricardo has rendered the horticultural industry of the Okanagan during the long period that he has controlled and directed the affairs of the largest and most famous fruit farm in the West.

It must be extremely gratifying to him to know that his public-spirited efforts have met with such general recognition, and have been so greatly appreciated by men whose good opinion is of itself, a stamp of merit. These expressions of unqualified approval have come from men in all walks of life, and in many instances have proceeded from those holding the most exalted positions in the country. The Premier of this Province, The Provincial Minister of Finance and Agriculture, the Hon. Martin Burrell, who holds the portfolio of Agriculture in the Dominion Government, the President of the local Board of Trade, the Mayor of the Coldstream Municipality, the President of the Fruit Union, prominent business and professional men, and a host of farmers and fruit growers have all united in according praise and gratitude to this gentleman for the magnificent work he has accomplished here. Nobody is better aware of the arduous nature of these duties than is this paper. Nobody, perhaps, is better informed concerning the far-reaching effects of Mr. Ricardo's activities upon the welfare of the community at large. Nobody could hold him in higher esteem; and nobody is better pleased that such well-merited recognition of worth and ability has found expression in so unmistakable a manner.

The News agrees most heartily with every word of the address presented to Mr. Ricardo on Monday night. It echoes the sentiments of good-will so freely expressed on that occasion; and it unites with his multitude of friends in wishing him an unmeasured degree of success in whatever field of activity his future efforts may be directed. The Okanagan owes him much. May he find in the recognition of his merits, so emphatically presented by his fellow-citizens, a partial reward for his well-directed and strenuous endeavor to raise the fruit growing industry to the premier position, which, we believe, it is destined to assume in this province!

HUERTA STEPS DOWN.

Huerta, after making a long and fairly successful stand against the rebel forces in Mexico, and the powerful opposition of the United States, has finally decided to give up the struggle. Had it not been for the bloody tragedy which marked his accession to power, when Madero was so ruthlessly slaughtered, the retiring ruler would doubtless occupy a better position in the opinion of the world than he now holds. As it is, one cannot withhold from him a certain meed of admiration for his plucky fight. Under slightly more favorable circumstances it is not impossible that he might have developed into a second Diaz.

The question that now engages public attention is what is going to happen now that Huerta has eliminated himself from the situation? The most potent influence in Mexico at present seems to be in the hands of Carranza, the chief of the Constitutionists, who also possesses the advantage of having at his back the sympathies of the United States executive. There is, however, a dangerous division of opinion between Carranza and his chief fighting lieutenant, Villa, the butcher of Benton, which may or may not break out into open hostilities between these two leaders. Villa is, of course, impossible after the Benton affair; but he evidently entertains no such opinion himself. If, for any reason, Villa should withdraw his support from Carranza, to say nothing of confronting him in a hostile attitude, we should probably see a worse condition of lawlessness and anarchy in the unhappy republic than even that which has obtained there for the past year.

President Wilson appears to have backed the Constitutionists to the extent of his power, short of absolute military intervention. It seems now up to him to help to bring order out of chaos, if his influence is at all capable of effecting such a result. Will he now take active steps to make his support of material value? The time for "watchful waiting" would seem to have passed. A great deal depends upon his prompt action. If the Monroe Doctrine means anything it certainly places a big measure of responsibility to restore a settled condition of affairs in Mexico upon the shoulders of the American president. The crucial point of his policy has now been reached. The world expects to await the next move of the American Government. If the United States does not make an effort soon to bring about a settlement that will permit business to go on, some other interested power may be tempted to undertake the task.

THE HINDUS.

What promised to develop into a very ugly situation has happily been brought to a satisfactory conclusion by the Hindus aboard the Maru at last acknowledging defeat, and agreeing to sail for their native land.

The long drawn out proceedings which have characterized this incident of international importance, have in the main, been conducted with wisdom and dignity upon the part of the authorities who were called upon to deal with about as delicate a condition of affairs as could well arise in connection with our immigration laws. On the other hand, the Hindus in charge of this movement have resorted to all sorts of chicanery, have advocated strife and sedition, which finally culminated in an outbreak of riotous disorder and violence.

We have sometimes heard it argued on behalf of those dusky seekers after entrance to our shores that they were well-trained men, amenable to discipline, and as such should be accorded a welcome to British Columbia. Well, they have themselves furnished a reply, if any were needed, to this argument. If some three hundred of them could openly defy the law and place the authorities, for a time, in an almost powerless condition, what would be the result if we had hundreds of thousands of such gentry to deal with? It is calculated that about one out of every five of the adult male population of this province is now an Oriental. This proportion is already much too great for comfort and security to the white people of the province. No measures to maintain this a white man's country can reasonably be considered too drastic, nor held to be unjust by any person fully acquainted with the situation with which we are confronted in British Columbia. This is certainly an instance where eternal vigilance must be held as the price of safety.

THE EMPRESS INQUIRY.

The finding rendered by the Commission of Enquiry into the Empress of Ireland disaster does not vary a great deal, in its broader aspects, from the public judgment formed from the conflicting stories of the two captains. In a clear and concise analysis of the evidence the commission ascribes the collision to the changing of the course of the collier Storstad during the fog. Before the fog settled, and the ships were about two miles apart, the Empress of Ireland was headed to cross the Storstad's bow and pass on the northerly side. If both ships had held their course, as laid at that time, they would have passed close to each other, but sufficiently far apart to make the risk of collision quite remote. But the third officer of the Storstad, who disobeyed orders by not calling the captain when the fog settled, seemed to expect the Empress to pass on his port, or southerly side, and as if to get more sea-room for passing, swung his ship out, and, as it happened, right at the liner. The changing of the course of the Storstad during the fog, especially while it was going at a good speed in the direction of the Empress, is condemned without qualification by the commission. It was the fatal mistake.

The feature of chief interest, says the Toronto Mail and Empire, outside of the fixing of the responsibility, is the question of what further safeguards would have availed to keep the Empress afloat for a longer time after the collision or at least to have enabled those on deck to get safely away. The sudden listing of the liner to an acute angle threw many passengers and members of the crew helplessly into the water, and prevented the launching of the boats on the davits. Such an unusual accident places those who would guard against the unexpected somewhat at a disadvantage.

The two chief suggestions Lord Mersey advances are that the watertight compartments and bulkheads should be closed whenever a fog settles down, and that liners should be provided with a number of rafts that would slide to the water on a very sharp listing, taking the place of boats that could not be lowered. It is evident that, no matter what the strength of steel construction in ships may be, or what protective devices may be employed, such as a double bottom, no ship could long keep afloat after the penetration of another ship's bow right through to its engine-room. The blow struck by the heavily-laden Storstad was enough to shatter almost any steel wall opposed to it. Protective devices are of little avail under such circumstances. The raft idea ought to be quite feasible. If constructed in a manner to provide considerable air space in it, and made watertight, a raft would support a large number of people. Rafts could be built that would be practically unsinkable under the weight of as many people as could get on them and cling to them.

The commission does the St. Lawrence waterway the justice of pointing out conspicuously that the accident was in no way attributable to the locality. The commissioners say it could have happened just as well on the Thames or the Clyde. This is a point upon which Canadians may be excused for being somewhat sensitive, because the St. Lawrence route has been subjected to much unfair discrimination by underwriters and others dealing with the risks of navigation in it. The prompt rendering of the commission's finding, the taking of the evidence and preparing of the report having occupied less than a month, is gratifying evidence of the wisdom of the Dominion Government's selection of commissioners.

THE IRRIGATION CONVENTION.

The Western Canada Irrigation Association has sent out a call to the eighth annual convention, which will be held at Penticton on three days, beginning August 17. It is evident that Mr. Norman S. Rankin, of Calgary, permanent secretary of the association, has bestowed considerable pains and good taste on the preparation of this call, making it an excellent advertisement for the Okanagan. Attractive views of the district embellish the call. The following is an excerpt from the letter-press:

"Penticton, 'The Hub of the Okanagan,' has been blessed by Nature. Situated in a sheltering valley with 2 lake 70 miles long to the north, and a second lake, Okanagan, to the south, whose waters are exceedingly deep, vary between 32 and 56 degrees Fahrenheit, it embraces a natural thermostat which tempers the climate in winter and cools it in summer. It has been observed that when severe frost killed orange groves in Florida, those situated at Penticton escaped injury. Dryness of atmosphere, beauty and grandeur of summer and autumn seasons and days and weeks of uninterrupted sunshine are just reasons why thousands of fertile acres in the district are under fruit cultivation. Its bench lands, fruitfully irrigated from large reservoirs stored in the mountains, produce apples, pears, peaches, plums, apricots, nectarines and other fruits that command the highest prices on the world's markets. Walnuts, almonds, grapes, etc., are also grown commercially.

"Penticton can be reached by the Canadian Pacific Railway from Sicamous, on the main line east or west, and via the Crow's Nest Branch and the Kettle Valley Railway. Arrangements may be made to run a special train over the Kettle Valley Railroad from Nelson to Penticton via Midway and Kelowna, all particulars of which may be obtained from C. P. R. agents at Crow's Nest and boundary points. This would enable delegates from these sections to reach Penticton via the new scenic direct route. The railway hotel, 'The Incola' and the commercial house, 'Penticton,' are modern and spacious. To further accommodate the delegates, it is hoped that the C. P. R. S.S. 'Okanagan' will be tied up to the dock during the meeting, thus giving additional sleeping capacity for 70. In no part of British Columbia are the varied recreations of town and country and the commercial production of delectable fruits so happily blended as in this most delightful centre, which is rapidly becoming known as the California of Canada."

CANADA AND THE EMPIRE.

A writer in the London Daily News says: Let us face the crude truth about Canada and the Empire. We do not hold it by force, or by superior interests, or even sentiment. We hold it because the arrangement suits Canada. On the day that it ceases to suit Canada it would cease to exist. And on the morrow of that day the independence and the unity of Canada would cease also. The separation elements that are so apparent even now would bring disruption. Commenting upon this statement, the Victoria Colonist says: "We suppose that it is quite true that Canada will remain in the Empire only as long as it suits her to do so, and we suppose the same statement may be made with equal truth about Australia, New Zealand and South Africa. The Dominions are certainly not kept in the Empire by force. They would one and all leave it tomorrow, if it did not suit them to remain. "But the weakness of the case set up by the News writer is that he misunderstands the fundamental spirit of the Empire. He says it is not sentiment. That depends upon what you call sentiment. We wonder if it is possible to get it into the minds of people who think as the writer quoted does, how wide a distinction there is between the expression, 'Canada belongs to the Empire,' and 'Canada is of the Empire?' Canada is not 'held' in the Empire any more than England is. It may be true that Canada will remain in the Empire only as long as it suits her to do so; but the same is also true of the United Kingdom. We are all in the Empire because it suits us to be so. Canada is a national entity of which George V. is just as much King, and neither more nor less, as he is of the United Kingdom. A Canadian is a British subject, not in the sense that he is a subject of the United Kingdom, but because he is subject to British institutions of which His Majesty is the personification.

"As to forces of disunion working in Canada, these do not exist to any greater degree than they exist in other countries. There are differences of opinion between Canadian citizens, but they are not along territorial lines, and the good sense of the people may be trusted to settle all these without disunion. Canadians have too many things in common to talk of disintegration."

LEARNING TO SWIM.

Every paper feels it a duty at this season of the year to print an article impressing upon all and sundry the high wisdom of learning how to swim. Texts for such articles constantly appear in the news columns. We read of boating accidents in which some were drowned and some saved—and after the names of the drowned commonly appears the statement that they, alone, in the boat did not know how to swim. The fact that a strong swimmer is at times drowned through his recklessness, does not dilute the strength of this lesson. It was his recklessness and not his knowledge which killed him; and he would have had his recklessness, even if he could not swim a stroke.

Learning how to swim, says the Montreal Star, is great fun. There would be good reason for taking on the job if it were of no subsequent use. It is like learning a fascinating game. When a man or woman learns how to play tennis or golf, no life-saving accomplishment is acquired. The means justify themselves—do not have to wait for the end. But it is just as interesting to learn the trick of keeping afloat in the water, and then of paddling about it, and plunging headlong into it, and playing with it in many other ways. It is a splendid summer sport—and knowing how to play it, may save your life.

The marvel is that anyone is without this knowledge. The chief reason for neglect of it is probably the inconvenience of getting access to a swimming-place after one has passed out of boyhood. The very fact that a man cannot swim, keeps him from holidaying where swimming is the chief sport. He is like a golfer hopelessly "off his pace." He shuns the spots where the pesky thing is played. But if he will give the subject a moment's thought, he will see that he is really in the position of the uninitiated who has never handled a "driver." He should seek out a professional and get instruction—not stay away from the links or the river.

Here is the proposition then—there is a new game to be learned, a fascinating game, a game which is fun to commence and a rare delight to follow up; and the prize to be won may be your life!

Mr. Chambers is an old Vernon boy, having lived here about 14 years ago, when his father was a member of the firm of the Vernon Hardware Co.

The annual concert announced to be held at Livingston on the 24th inst., has been postponed until Wednesday the 25th, when it will take place at N. H. Monro's house at 8 o'clock in the evening.

A ten-piece orchestra will be in attendance, and a number of well known vocalists will take part in the programme.

J. C. Bradley, Crop and Soil Inspector of the Provincial Agricultural Department, recently judged the two-acre plots of soil entered by local farmers for competition established under the direction of the Farmers' Institute.

The awards were as follows: First prize, W. Middleton with 92.75 points; second, R. Van Etzel with 87.50; third, P. Conkling, 82.50; fourth, J. Coles, 82; fifth, W. Mohr, 80.

A local collision between two rapidly moving automobiles occurred on Barnard Avenue yesterday morning at about 11:25 o'clock, when at the Kelowna Hotel corner G. A.
Henderson's car, turning south from the avenue too close to the curb, ran full tilt into the car owned by R. J.
Morgan of Lumbay. The occupants of both cars escaped unhurt, but both cars were rather battered by the impact.

The Livingston Club concert will be given on Friday evening of this week.

W. C. Ricardo returned on Friday from a business trip to Cranbrook.

The Hon. Price Ellison came up from Victoria by Saturday's train.

Mrs. G. Goulding of Oyma returned on Saturday from a visit to friends in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Giles returned on Saturday from a visit to the coast cities.

S. L. Smith and his son Harry left on Tuesday on a short visit to the coast cities.

Dr. Osborne Morris returned on Sunday last from a business trip to the coast.

There was no meeting of the City Council held this week, no business of importance demanding the attention of the Aldermen.

The Vernon Central and High School will re-open after the midsummer vacation one month from tomorrow, on Monday, August 24.

The Loyal Temperance Legion will hold their regular meeting in the Baptist Church on Friday next, at 7 p. m., instead of 4:30.

Mrs. Earl Megaw and Miss Jean Mc-Intosh returned on Wednesday of this week from a four weeks trip to Calgary, Banff and Laggan.

Harry Gibbs, who has charge of the hatchery of Babine Lake, returned to his duties last Saturday after spending a pleasant holiday visiting old friends in this district.

Vice-President McNicholl, of the C.
P. R., went through to Pentiction on Monday, and will spend a month's holiday there visiting his son, who is engaged in fruit growing in that district.

Mr. Kent, General Manager of the C.
P. R. telegraph service, and Mr.
McMillan, General Superintendent, for western lines, and Mr. Richardson of the same service in the Vancouver office, paid a visit to the Okanagan this week, visiting points down the lake, and returning north by Tuesday's train.

A special attraction has been billed for the Empress Theatre for Friday night of this week, when Vancouver's comedians will be seen in up-to-date vaudeville skits. A special slack wire act is an exceptionally fine feature of the bill being put on here Friday by the Vancouver company.

Jas. McEvoy, a well-known geologist of Ottawa, is here to make an inspection and report for a St.
Catherines syndicate on the coal measures of Short's Point. In company with S. C. Smith and Jas. Christie, he has made several visits to the property, and now has a gang of men at work stripping at various places. He will probably also do some tunnel work on the property. Mr. McEvoy is well acquainted with this district, having made his first tour of it in company with the late Professor Dawson.

The city of keeping had tempered down in the city was again exemplified yesterday, when the three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Bristow of Schubert street was cruelly mauled by a collie belonging to a next door neighbor. The child was severely bitten on the right cheek, nose, back of the left ear, and on the right side of the head. Sixteen stitches were necessary to close the wounds. This is the second child to be seriously bitten by a dog in the city in the last four months.

The four story frame building at Okanagan Landing, used by P. C. Reynolds as a boarding house, was completely destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon, as was the dwelling house attached thereto. All of the furniture in the boarding house was also burned, but that in the residence was saved.

How the fire originated is a mystery.
The blaze was first seen at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, but Mr. Reynolds says there were no lights in any of the buildings at 11 o'clock in the morning.
A call for aid was sent to Vernon, and the city auto, with several firemen, buckets, etc., were sent down, but the flames had gained too great a headway to be checked. The property was insured. The building was 40x80.

Learned Much About Wild Life of the District.

The Vernon Boy Scouts arrived home on Saturday evening last looking well and tanned, though somewhat tired after their five mile tramp from the camp at Okanagan Lake.

Two transports conveyed the boys and tents and equipment to town, one loaded by Mrs. Haldane and the other by Mr. R. W. Nell. Immediately after their arrival in the city the boys dispersed to their respective homes.

No higher commendation of the scout training is needed than the report of the Scoutmaster, who states that the boys look keenly to all phases of the training and many have passed

HINDUS AGREE TO RETURN TO INDIA

This was after 11 o'clock, and by 12:30 the chief had 125 men of the local force at the dock and they were marched aboard the tug Sea Lion. In the meantime Superintendent Reid was gathering in his special officers, and they to the number of fifty paraded at the same time, armed with Ross rifles, and took up their places on the tug. With the moorings lying loose and full steam up, the tug was prepared to steam out into the stream towards the Komagata Maru at a moment's notice.

Threat Carried Out.
When these offensive preparations were under way further information was received from the steamer stating that the East Indians had already taken the action they had previously threatened, and that the stokers who were getting up steam in the main boilers of the vessel had been driven from the furnaces and the coal passers forced to discontinue bringing coal from the bunkers, a party of the East Indians also compelling the engine-room crew to leave their posts and retire to their cabins.

Superintendent Reid at once dispatched an interpreter to the ship with instructions to advise the East Indians that he was aware of their actions and that if they did not at once permit the Japanese crew to proceed with the preparations for making the Komagata Maru ready for her voyage the officers would immediately board the ship and see that the ordered departure was carried out.

EGGS BY PARCEL POST.
The United States Government has recently proved that eggs can be marshaled successfully by parcel post. At the end of five months' test it concludes that parcel post is of particular value to the man whose flock is too small or who lives too far from express service to permit shipping eggs in the regular commercial 30-dozen case. Of the 1,121 eggs shipped in 46 lots, 327, or slightly less than 30 per cent, were broken. Only 299, or slightly less than 23 per cent, were absolutely wasted; the others though broken, could still be used. No Robinson would collect the broken parcel post any but eggs of the finest quality.
Eggs should never be washed when intended for high-class trade, since the process removes the natural mucillaginous coating and opens the pores of the shell. After thorough cleaning of the unit, the eggs that remain should be carefully packed in a container. The post office regulations require this to be so wrapped that nothing can escape from the package, and each egg in addition to be wrapped separately in excelsior, cotton, or some such material. Soft paper serves the purpose well.
The larger the shipments the producer can arrange to make, the cheaper can be afforded to sell his eggs.
For two dozen eggs this may be estimated at 8 cents. With postage at 9 cents it would therefore cost 17 cents for two dozen eggs, or 8 1/2 cents a dozen. By shipping in 10-dozen lots, it is estimated that the marketing cost can be reduced to 4 1/2 cents a dozen.
Where the container can be used more than once this cost can be somewhat lightened by the care with which the producer must handle his products.
Satisfied customers will soon build up his business for him.

to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Smith are maining hot summer months. It is undecided where they will settle down.

Mrs. Jackson of Vernon was the guest of Mrs. Mabey for two weeks back. She returned with Mr. Jackson, who came here on the previous Wednesday, on Saturday last, taking Mrs.
Mabey and Miss McCulloch to stay the week-end with them.

NEW INVENTION
Possibilities of "Wireless" Further Developed by Marconi.
Interest keener than usual attended the recent arrival at St. Lawrence ports of the Canadian Northern liner "Royal George," because of the fact that the passengers consist of a series of demonstrations had been given of the possibilities of a new wireless aid to navigation.
Through the genius of Marconi, during the last few years, the narrative of a workaday world has been given daily to the passengers of the great steamships ploughing the seven seas.
The Italian inventor gave the air a tongue. Now, in the new wonder, the Marconi-Bellini-Tosi System, has been added, literally, a wireless eye.
The new device is classified as a "direction finder." Its utility is in the fact that it is able to detect the presence of wireless stations, whether stationary or in motion—or in other words on coast line or high seas, within a radius of fifty miles and to indicate for the guidance of the navigating officers the exact relation of the ship to those in terms of latitude and longitude. This phase of usefulness, even in the present experimental stage, is to assist the captain during "thick" weather, in maintaining a clear course in the travelled ocean "lanes" in passing points, and in making port.
"Like many inventions useful to mankind this wireless finder is remarkable for its simplicity. Although one of Marconi's engineers, Signor Emilio Ichino, came out on the "Royal George" to make the tests, its operation does not require an expert and any of the bridge officers can obtain a bearing as easily as with a compass, and just as conveniently, the instruments being set up in the chart room.
The device is not bulky. The "detector" box, which is the medium for locating the wireless stations, is but large enough to hold two small switches and a graduated dial fitted with a movable needle. The dial is connected by a cord to the telephone box, differing from others in that it is equipped with a crystal of carbondum which translates the wireless into a signal intelligible to the ear of the operator. There are two receivers fastened to the ears of the operator by metal straps going over the head.
Then, too, the device differs from the ordinary wireless apparatus in the series, according to Mr. David Sarnoff, contract manager of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of America, who in addition gives the following description: "Instead of being composed of several straight parallel wires, the aerial of this new system consists of two large wire triangles, which are so arranged that they cannot receive a message at the same time with the same strength. If one of them receives a message full strength if both receive it at all; and the other does not receive it at all; and the strength of the message is always stronger over one than over the other. The position of the sending station is determined by the strength of the message as it is received over each triangle. These two wires are connected to the receiver by two switches. On this box is a dial marked in the degrees of a compass with a movable indicator. Half of this dial is affected by a message coming over one of the triangles and the other half by the other triangle, so that the indicator is moved accordingly. When the current is at its strongest the indicator points to the direction of the sending station. To determine the point on the dial at which the message is strongest the operator moves the indicator first one way and then the other, noting the points at which the current disappears. The mark midway between these two vanishing points gives the direction of the message."
